By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—There is speculation that Premier Khrushchev may bring Soviet spaceman Valentina Tereshkova to East Berlin Friday in an attempt to offset President Kennedy's triumphant visit to West Berlin.

Observers said the Soviet leader will have to do something spectacular to whip up enthusiasm among the East Berliners.

There has been speculation that Khrushchev might reveal a new Soviet policy on German problems. But the general feeling is that he is too busy disputing with the Red Chinese to take on the West for a new period of acute tension.

There is little chance, however, that even the 26-year-old spaceman could bring out the crowds or arouse the enthusiasm that greeted Kennedy in West Berlin Wednesday.

Gerhard Goetting, an East German Communist party official, said during a round-table discussion with East Berlin newsmen that "The visits of Khrushchev and Kennedy can't be compared."

Khrushchev, said Goetting, was coming to support East Germany.

Thinks State to Oppose Rights Bill

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Rep. Marion Crank, speaker of the Arkansas House, told a conference of southern states' leaders Wednesday that Arkansas will vigorously oppose President Kennedy's civil rights program.

His remarks came as legislators, and other delegates from 15 southern states attended the opening session of a three-day Southern Regional Conference of the Council of State Governments.

Crank said "The President has gone too far in taking away the rights of the individual businessman. This is the most disliked part of his program in Arkansas."

Arkansans will, however, abide by whatever part of the program becomes federal law, he said, because they believe in the ballot box and the courts as the foundation of a Democratic society.

Rep. Clarence B. Newman of Mississippi accused the administration of trying to regulate not only business, but the social life of the country.

Rep. Frank E. Shanahan Jr. of Vicksburg, Miss., said the people of Mississippi felt that "even a watered-down version of the program means ultimate destruction of American Democracy."

Many Groups Are Anxious to Attack Gasoline Tax Hike Proposed by Commissioner

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Staff Writer
Leaders of various statewide organizations were eager Wednesday to attack a proposed increase in the state gasoline tax to get road building funds, but backers were not so enthusiastic in their support.

An Associated Press check revealed that sentiment generally runs against the increase.

Critics, who labeled the proposal "silly, naive, wasteful," included leaders of the Arkansas Automobile Association, the Arkansas Farm Bureau and the Arkansas County Judges Association. An official of the Arkansas Sheriff's Association gave it lukewarm backing, and heads of two other groups preferred not to comment.

Highway Commission Chairman Wayne Hampton has suggested a one cent per gallon increase in the gasoline tax. The tax, which has not been increased since 1934, would be 7½ cents a gallon if the proposed increase becomes law during an anticipated special session of the legislature this fall.

Frank Potter, executive secretary and general manager of the Arkansas Automobile Association, said he was "thoroughly against it."

"Hotels, motels and restaurants will suffer with the loss of tourist trade," he said.

Potter said a motorist can cross Arkansas in almost any direction on one tank of gasoline. The increase would give Arkansas a higher gasoline tax than any of the surrounding states. This, Potter said, would cause tourists to stop before entering Arkansas, fill up their tanks, drive across the state, and not buy gasoline again until they left Arkansas.

"We'll lose money, instead of gaining," he said. "Their estimated $7 million increase in revenues is thoroughly naive."

Gasoline taxes per gallon in surrounding states include: Missouri, 5; Texas, 5; Tennessee, 7; Mississippi, 7; Louisiana, 7; Oklahoma, 6½.

Alaska currently has the highest gasoline tax imposed by a state in the United States—8 cents. Washington is second highest at 7½ cents.

The Arkansas Farm Bureau has been on record since 1961 as opposing any increase in the gasoline tax, director of information Walter E. Scates said.

He pointed out, however, that this policy will come up for review twice this year.

"I'm sure the farmers would want the roads," he said, "but as of this moment we're against the increase."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said he does not favor the increase, but will back it if all the revenues from it are earmarked for secondary and rural roads.

Ray Sikes, president of the Arkansas County Judges Association, said "taxes in Arkansas are already producing more money than we can match with federal funds."

He said he would support "any reasonable tax to support building of rural roads," but added: "Counties can build roads at about half the cost of what it takes when the state builds them, and I believe Faubus wants the money to go into the state road fund."

Counties could do more with a one-half cent tax, than the state can do with a one cent tax, or more, Sikes said.

Sheriff Robert S. Moore of Desha County, executive secretary of the Arkansas Sheriff's Association, gave the proposal unenthusiastic support.

"If that's what it takes to get some rural roads, I guess it's worth one cent per gallon more," he said.

"It's nice to build big roads for the through traffic, but if we're going to develop Arkansas we've got to get our rural folks out of the dust and mud, too," Moore said.

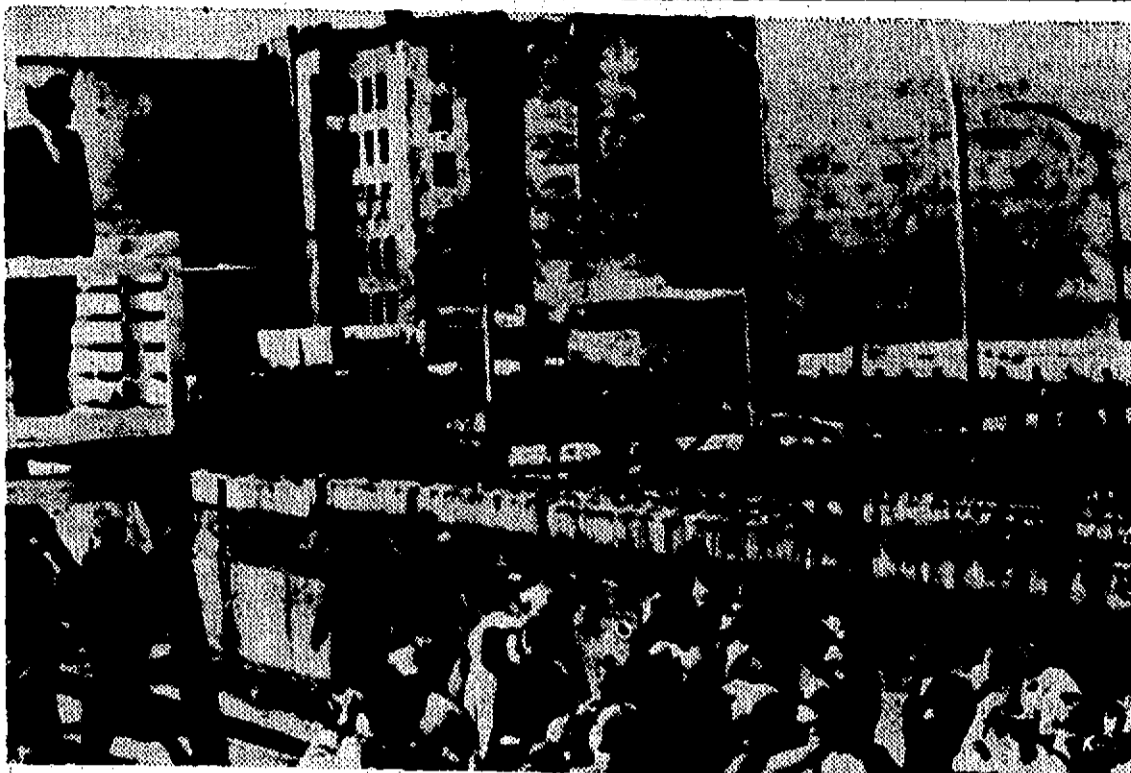

He said this was his personal opinion, but added that "a majority of the sheriffs probably would agree with me."

Chester Lowe, executive secretary of the Arkansas Automobile Dealers Association, said he could not comment until he had given the proposal more thought.

Glen Zimmerman, head of the Arkansas Municipal League, said the league had not yet adopted a policy on the proposal, but probably would do so in July.

Praises Arkansas' Industry March

PERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus told some 3,100 persons attending the annual membership meeting of the Fir Electric Co-operative Corporation Wednesday that Arkansas was in its greatest period of industrial growth.

Faubus reviewed accomplishments of his administration and said that since creation of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission in 1955 there have been 75,000 new industrial jobs opened in the state.

Ermos Minton of Ward, George Keller of Galloway and Gordon Brown of Lonoke were re-elected to three-year terms on the co-op's board of directors.

Members voted to increase the debt ceiling of the organization from $10 million to $50 million.

The co-operative is headquartered at Jacksonville. It has some 13,000 member-consumers in 11 counties.

Plant Retains Snyder as Chief

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The board of directors of Arkansas Valley Industries, Inc., re-elected Harold Snyder president of the firm Wednesday.

Re-elected to the board were Snyder, S. D. Mitchell and William M. Lemley of Russellville, Dale Claus of Denver, Colo., and Christian B. Poper and W. Guy Redman of St. Louis, Mo.

Mitchell was re-elected vice president for operations and Lemley was re-elected secretary-treasurer. B. L. Turney of Russellville was named controller and Gretchen Goodier of Dardanelle, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Stockholders who own 67 per cent of AVI's stock were present or represented at the meeting.

Snyder said AVI would emphasize development of a marketing division during the current year. Neil E. Neunherz was recently named director of marketing for the firm.

Bond Backed Plant Folds at El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The Chase-Grocer Rubber Co. announced Wednesday the curtailment of its operations at El Dorado as of June 25 because of financial difficulty "which has made it impossible to operate any longer."

The plant, one of the most promising industries in the state when it was established in 1961, was financed by a $2 million bond issue approved May 17, 1961, by Union County voters under Amendment 49.

The bonds carried a 3½ mills tax, which the firm was to help pay off through lease payments.

Robert K. Murphy, president of the firm, released a statement through Joe Permetti, sales representative for Chase - Grocer, saying:

"The severe strain on the cash resources of our company as well as our unsuccessful negotiations with our bank to extend both long and short-term loans left us no other alternative."

The statement said several attachments have been placed against the plant, equipment and inventory.

Difficulty for the firm was foreseen earlier this year when Francis G. Chase, then executive vice president, announced that all operating and office personnel would be temporarily laid off.

Chase said then, however, that the firm would continue to exist. He said later the same day some of the workers would be called back the following day and others would be called as needed.

Initial plans of the firm were to hire between 200 and 225 employees. Its maximum employment was 170.

The firm moved equipment valued at $2.5 million to the $750,000 plant located on a 20-acre plot in the El Dorado industrial park.

Financing of the plant utilized all but 1-3-4 mills of Union County's taxing power under Amendment 49. Only five mills can be levied for the purpose of financing industry, under the amendment.

Ten to 15 prospective buyers had looked at the plant since the first layoffs were announced in April, but since the contract of Chase-Grocer is with the county, the course of action probably will be determined by County Judge Dewey Tarver, Permetti said.

Lee Zachary, executive secretary of the Greater El Dorado Committee, said the firm had not made its June 1 lease payment.

Membership Is Extended

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Membership eligibility in the American Association of University Women will be extended to all colleges now accredited by recognized regional accrediting organizations.

In Arkansas only women graduates of the University of Arkansas, Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, Arkansas A & M at Monticello, Arkansas Tech at Russellville, Harding College at Searcy, Arkansas A & M at Pine Bluff and Philander Smith at Little Rock.

The new move, announced Wednesday at the national AAUW convention in Denver, extends membership to women graduates of Ouachita Baptist College at Arkadelphia, Little Rock University, Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, Arkansas A & M at Monticello, Arkansas Tech at Russellville, Harding College at Searcy, Arkansas A & M at Pine Bluff and Philander Smith at Little Rock.

Rain 12.16 Inches Behind Year Ago

According to the Experiment Station records this area is nearly 13 inches short of rainfall as compared to last year.

The station reported a total of 13.28 inches of participation through May. This is compared to 25.44 inches through May last year. Thus this year is 12.16 inches short of rainfall as compared to a year ago.

The total amount of rainfall last year was 51.68.

Says U.S. to Prevent Job Discrimination

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today the government soon will issue new standards to make sure there is no discrimination in employment on federal projects.

The government's nondiscrimination policy in the construction industry will be tightened, he said, to make sure before a contract is awarded that contractors can comply — not after work on the contract begins.

The forum for Wirtz' announcement was a meeting of a House judiciary subcommittee where he testified in support of President Kennedy's civil rights package.

Of the quest for improving the lot of the American Negro, Wirtz said in his prepared testimony: "There has been no more important issue before the country and the Congress—save only the issue of war and peace."

Wirtz followed Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who urged passage of the program Wednesday. Republican members made clear that the GOP price tag for helping the Democratic administration get the bill through Congress is a strong hand in writing the legislation.

They showed the administration can count on GOP support only if it is willing to compromise on its sweeping seven-point program.

In advance of Wirtz' testimony, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., made known that he intends to offer an amendment to deny National Labor Relations Board and other benefits to unions that practice discrimination.

"I don't think the administration will support the amendment in a showdown but I am going to give its supporters a chance to go on record," Goldwater said in an interview.

Launching the administration civil rights bill on its troublesome course through Congress was a five-hour job for the attorney general, who was subjected to detailed, legalistic questioning, mostly by Republicans.

Their chief criticism was aimed at a proposal to ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants and other places serving the public.

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., a leader of the GOP civil rights bloc in the House, said after the hearing he thought Kennedy had "acquitted himself very well."

Lindsay expressed disappointment, however, that Kennedy had not even read the 41 Republican civil rights bills introduced last January and the 38 additional bills put in this month, most of them covering the same ground as the bill outlined by the President last week.

The chief disagreement between Kennedy and the Republicans was over the public accommodations section. The administration is relying chiefly on the federal power to regulate interstate commerce for its authority to act in this field, while the GOP favors pinning any action to the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. At the heart of this agreement is the traditional Republican opposition to any expansion of federal power in the private enterprise sector.

GOP members said the bill gives too much power to the attorney general, fails to cover discriminatory practices in labor unions and includes proposals already in the law.

State Not to Change Plans

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Highway Commission will not alter its plans to refinance the Helena bridge bonds, chairman Wayne Hampton said Wednesday.

The Helena Bridge Steering Committee, which helped plan the bridge before its construction in 1959, had asked that the refinancing plan be submitted to the state Fiscal Control Board for reconsideration.

The Helena committee maintained increasing traffic would provide enough money for maintenance and to pay off the bonds on the bridge. The commission contended toll traffic was not heavy enough for these purposes.

President Gets Sentimental Irish Welcome

By THOMAS A. REEDY

DUBLIN (AP)—President Kennedy put aside world problems today to make a sentimental pilgrimage to the Irish hamlet where his great-grandfather was born.

The President clipped three days from his crowded European itinerary to visit Irish cities and towns. He reserved an hour for a helicopter hop to Dungannon, which Patrick Kennedy left 120 years ago to seek his fortune in the United States.

Dungannon consists of a couple of farmhouses, a country lane and a few pastures.

The ancestral home, a tin-roofed hut, is a storage shed on the farm of widow Mary Ryan, the President's third cousin.

The hut, last visited by Kennedy when he was a congressman in 1947, bears a sign identifying it as the Kennedy homestead. For Kennedy, the barnyard has been covered with concrete, a manure pile has been removed from a nearby field and the farm animals are gone.

Mrs. Ryan did not seem flustered by the President's visit. She prepared a pot of tea and longy soda bread for "Cousin Jack."

Kennedy received a ringing welcome from about a quarter of a million jubilant Irishmen Wednesday. Dubliners waved banners reading "Welcome Home, John Kennedy," as the presidential motorcade drove to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Matthew McCloskey.

American flags flew on buildings all over the Irish capital. Many signs greeted the President as "Sean"—the Irish version of John, pronounced Shawn.

Party Leaders to Talk to Young GOPs

By JERRY RANKIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Feuding Young Republicans took time out today to hear from senior party leaders expected to counsel unity.

The main excitement centered over the night speech due to be delivered by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., clearly the hero of more than 1,000 youthful Republicans going into the third day of their four-day convention.

Also slated to appear were former U.S. Sen. William Knowland of California in the morning, and freshman Sen. Jack Miller of Iowa at noon.

All three were expected to follow the lead of Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield, who advised the Young Republicans Wednesday to form a united front and stop intra-party warfare.

However, discord appeared both in the organization ranks and in the concurrent meeting of the Congressional Republicans.

After a day of wrangling, the college group wound up with two chairmen elected for the next two years—each claiming to be the "legitimate" chairman.

The more moderate of the two is Ward White from Russell, Kan., a student at Cornell law school. He was backed by outgoing Young Republican chairman Leonard J. Nadasy. Sandra Spence of Allegheny College, Pa., was named co-chairman on the White ticket.

On the other side of the ballroom, a more conservative group chose Jerry Dickson, a law student at the University of Kansas from Newton, Kan. He had the support of outgoing college chairman James Harff. Sharon Powers of Durham, N.H., was elected Dickson's co-chairman.

Grants to Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grants totaling $72,780 to two Arkansas cities were approved Wednesday by the Area Redevelopment Administration. The ARA approved a loan of $8,250 and a grant of $24,530 to Ashdown to aid in expansion of water facilities. A loan of $10,000 and a grant of $30,000 for fire protection facilities were approved for DeQueen.

Negroes Have No Chance for Northern Jobs

EDITOR'S NOTE—Job discrimination is one of the key targets of Negro demonstrations in the North. Picketing and scuffling already have erupted in Philadelphia and New York. Negro leaders are scheduling demonstrations in other Northern cities soon. The Associated Press asked its correspondents to report on the problems and prospects in their areas. Here is a roundup of the picture in the North, based on these reports.
By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Negroes have less chance than white to get a high-paying job in the North, but most employers and unions deny this stems from racial discrimination.
Negro leaders generally contend it does. In Chicago, for example, they say that hardly anyone downtown hires Negroes as office workers, store clerks, or skilled craftsmen.
"The Loop of Chicago looks like a snowstorm at 5 o'clock," says Hamp McKinney of the Urban League of Chicago, "with only here and there a little brown speck in it."
But employers and unions say that situations like this are not caused by racial discrimination. They say there aren't enough qualified Negroes to fill the jobs available.
Reports from Associated Press bureaus in New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Detroit, San Francisco and Chicago and from government agencies in Washington indicate a similar pattern.
Negro charges of job discrimination have flared into one of the most searing racial problems in the North, where almost half of America's 19 million Negroes live. Statistics show that Negroes in the North have a more difficult time than whites at getting jobs. But there is controversy over the cause.
Many employers and unions have antidiscrimination clauses in their contracts. They say they honor them. They say they would hire qualified Negroes, or take qualified Negroes into apprenticeship.
But Negro leaders insist that job discrimination blocks the way of the Negro in the North.
Picketing and police clashed in Philadelphia and New York a few weeks ago in the Negro struggle for more and better jobs. Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has threatened more demonstrations if the doors of personnel offices and union halls stay closed.

Denies Powell Rewrote Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. J. Vaughan Gary, D-Va., said today the White House denies that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., rewrote a portion of President Kennedy's civil rights measure.
Powell said in a speech in California Friday that he rewrote half of the measure.
Inquiries by reporters to the White House about Powell's statement have met with no comment.
Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger, who is in Germany with Kennedy, was asked there about Powell's assertion. He replied that he had responded to Powell's claim with a laugh last week and did not expect to have any further reaction.

usually are menial, low-paying, and the first eliminated when times get tough.
Employers and unions do not dispute these facts. They simply refuse to accept any responsibility for it. For the record, almost all unions and most businesses in the North say they are against racial discrimination.
"We have no Negroes in our union," says Romeo Jensen, business representative of the AFL-CIO Iron Workers Local 11 in Newark, N.J., "and the reason is nobody has applied, to my knowledge. I don't believe in any discrimination of any sort."
Leaders of the AFL-CIO admit that the craft unions have discriminated against Negroes. At the same time, the leaders resent the current furor by Negroes over the situation. The resentment stems from three basic beliefs of the AFL-CIO leaders:
1. That the record of the AFL-CIO, on the whole, has favored the Negro.
2. That the AFL-CIO is doing the best it can to change the policies of its craft unions.
3. That the end of discrimination by the small craft unions would hardly improve the general job situation for Negroes.
Nevertheless, the record remains to anger American Negroes: in all America, there are only 300 union-licensed Negro plumbers and electricians, far less than the number of Negroes with doctorate degrees.
In Detroit last year, the Iron Workers Local trained 66 apprentices, none Negro; the Plumbers Local trained 128 apprentices, none Negro; the Sheetmetal Workers trained 159 apprentices, 7 Negro.
The leaders of the craft unions, when pressed, will say that they would allow Negroes into the apprenticeship programs if Negroes applied.
But Negro youngsters, knowing the record of the craft unions, rarely bother to apply. Often they are too poor and unschooled to become apprentices even if the unions kicked away the barriers.
"What's the reason?" asks Camponeschi. "Close your eyes and stick out 10 fingers, and you'll find 10 reasons. You want me to say all these reasons mean discrimination. Sure, it's discrimination. It's the story of the Negro in America."
And so the cycle goes on. Employers and unions says Negroes aren't qualified. Without union membership and without jobs, Negroes can't get the education and training to become qualified.
The flurry of demonstrations during the last few weeks has spurred some action from unions, employers, and the government.
The AFL-CIO has put pressure on craft unions to make room for Negro apprentices.
President Kennedy has banned racial discrimination on construction projects paid for, in whole or part, by federal funds.
The President also has asked Congress to pass a massive vocational education program to train Negroes for higher paying jobs.
Will these steps soften Northern Negro anger? Some experts fear the problem may not be solved for many years, for it takes time to train skilled workers and it takes time to create incentive among young Negroes.

COLLEGE DEGREE NOT ALWAYS KEY TO SUCCESS
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE
Dear Helen: I should be a happy man yet, around this time of year and particularly now, when I've got the chance of a lifetime, I'm very miserable.
My wife is one of the finest women who ever drew breath and our little boys all you could ask for. She's a college graduate, ditto her father, brothers and sisters. My brother holds a university degree. I'm the only one in our two families who never went to college. That sure plummets my ego to zero, especially when I see this season's crop of sheepskin holders waiting into plush jobs.

My parents went through so much to put my brother through school and circumstances were such that I felt I should work and help them, instead of them helping me. So I quit at the eighth grade and that's the rub.
My father-in-law, as human a guy as ever lived, wants to set me up in business but, lacking a college degree, I hesitate to accept the offer, fearing that I will not come up to his expectations. Sensing this, he and my mother-in-law will pay for any courses I need to make up for lost schooling. Again I hesitate to accept but for a different reason — my parents.
They are terribly hurt by the fact that my in-laws and not they, would finance my education. Frankly, they're still not equal to it.
I love my parents and would not in any way embarrass them. So here I am torn between my fear of pulling a flop at the expense of my father-in-law or taking the courses necessary for the success of the enterprise and, in the process, hurting my parents' feelings. What should I do? —In-a-Stew
Dear In: Don't let the false pride of your parents or your own insecurity prevent you from accepting your in-laws' generous offer.
Make up your mind, come hell or high water, that you're going to take those necessary courses, start that business and be a success in life. Your father-in-law would not have made the offer had he not believed in you. Don't sell him or yourself short.
A college degree, while desirable, isn't necessarily the golden key to success. Countless men have succeeded without one. To name a few: Thomas Edison, George Westinghouse, Mark Twain, Marshal Field, J. C. Penney and so on ad infinitum.

Dear Helen: Is there any handicraft my husband and I could master which would, in time, give us a living? We are handicapped. He lost one lung in World War II and I injured a hand but can still use it fairly well. We have several interesting ideas for business ventures in which we might employ other handicapped people but it's the same old story. Unable to get anyone to back us, we are now searching for some handicraft which we could master. —A Friend
Dear Friend: Employing others inevitably involves insurance which runs high. If I were you, I would call the state or county employment service for advice. I would also consider boarding small animals and raising rabbits or mice for medical research. Call your local hospital for more information on this latter suggestion.

Dear Helen: The boy I love fell in love with my best friend. She refuses to date him because he's been going steady with me, yet I know she cares. This makes me feel I'm depriving them of their happiness. She has been like a sister to me. Should I keep still or tell her it's all right with me if they do date? —Silence Is Golden
Dear Silence: Yours is a new twist to an old situation. Sacrifice such as you contemplate is not normal. If you love the boy, go after him on the chance that his infatuation for your girl friend may be only passing. He's looking for a mate. Prove you're the right one.
Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Scattered severe thunderstorms occurred early Thursday over Eastern Nebraska, an area just beginning to recover from floods caused by heavy rain earlier in the week.

Census Shows Population Gain

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mayor W. F. Lamon said Wednesday a special census of the city has revealed a population increase of 3,000 since April 1, 1960, which will bring the community an additional $24,000 per year in state tax turnback funds. Lamon said the money will go into the city's street fund. A city gets $8 in state funds for each added resident since the 1960 census. The survey, which cost $11,000, placed North Little Rock's present population at 60,972 persons.

Russia Pans Same Policy

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's papers published today the Soviet Communist party decision to pursue its current foreign policy line in the forthcoming Chinese-Soviet talks in Moscow.
By doing so, Peking provided itself an opportunity to follow one of several face-saving lines, one of which possibly could be a refusal to take part in the projected July 5 Moscow conference.
The papers also informed their readers of the Soviet refusal to print the Peking party's 30,000-word letter blasting Soviet views of the world revolution and making new and violent attacks on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's leadership.
on Atlanta.
Scattered severe thunderstorms occurred over South Dakota, Iowa and Southwestern Minnesota. Wind gusts up to 67 m.p.h. were measured at Sioux City, Iowa.
Most of the remainder of the nation experienced clear skies and warm temperatures Thursday morning, a prelude in the midwest to another day of mid-90 temperatures.

Russians Slam JFK's Berlin Visit

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass charged today President Kennedy's visit was being used by West Berlin authorities "for further fanning up the slanderous campaign against the German Democratic Republic."

A dispatch from its correspondent there also said "the Bonn authorities, for their part, used the visit of the American President for support of their unlawful claims to West Berlin."

The Soviet Union claims West Germany has no rights in West Berlin.

There was no mention of the enthusiastic welcome for Kennedy nor of his speeches.

J. B. Hunt, of Melbourne, saved his corn from the enemy during the Civil War by shelling it and hiding it between the weather boarding of his home.

Timing All Important on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hard-luck stories of poor timing and bad breaks are a common television commodity, but there very definitely is another side to the picture. Witness the success story of Tim Conway of "McHale's Navy."

Tim became a member of the comedy show's cast—playing well-intentioned, bumbling Ensign Charles Parker — after exactly three appearances on the Steve Allen Show, his first national exposure.

Before that he directed an old-movie program on a Cleveland, Ohio, station. Conway began doing some on-camera comedy sketches to fill in the minutes between the end of the film and the time he was allotted.

One day, Rose Marie of "The Dick Van Dyke Show" came to the studio to make some promotion tapes, caught Tim's monkey shines and announced: "You ought to be on the Steve Allen Show."

"I said thank you very much and forgot it," related the round-faced young comedian, "but two months later I was on the Steve Allen Show."

Rose Marie was acting as his manager—as she still does. Conway accepts the whole thing rather calmly.

"I'd always known that I'd be a success," he said. "I didn't know how, but I knew it would be before I was 30."

He still has six months before his deadline.

$26,000 to Hope for Planning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loans to finance construction or planning of low-rent homes at Hope and Brinkley and in Pike County, Arkansas were approved Wednesday by the Public Housing Administration. Hope will get $26,000 for preliminary planning of 140 low-rent homes, Brinkley $939,221 for construction of 74 homes and the Pike County Housing Authority $92,635 for eight homes at Delight.

Emergency Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus used $4,800 of his emergency fund Wednesday to provide money to rent space for the new state Planning Commission through June 30, 1964. The new agency is located in the state Game and Fish Commission building. There was no space for the new department in the Capitol building and no allocation for rent was made in the agency's appropriation.

Housing Bids

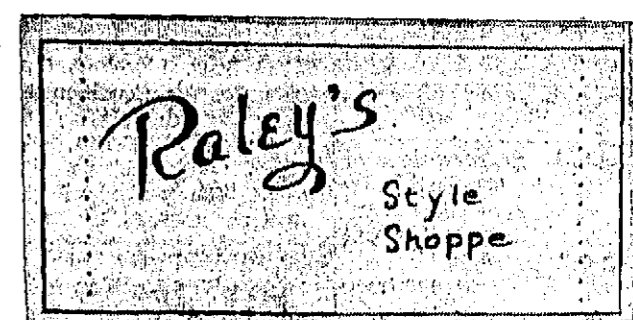

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Federal Housing Authority will be ready to accept bids for construction of a 240-unit, low-rent public housing project at Hot Springs in about two months, an FHA official said Wednesday. Total cost of the 375 unit project planned for the city is $6,500,000. Army Engineers are planning a 135-unit, 11-story section to be built near the national park reservation.

Kennedy Rips Into French Leader
By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy waited six months until he got to Europe to do an extraordinary job on French President Charles de Gaulle for the damage he had caused the Western Alliance.

In a rough, deliberately planned major policy speech Tuesday at Frankfurt, Germany, Kennedy, with all Europe listening, ripped into De Gaulle for suggesting America might run out on its Allies in case of attack.

This was probably the harshest criticism—even though Kennedy did not mention De Gaulle by name—that any U.S. president has made on an Allied leader since the war.

This made the relationship between the two men frigid. It was already cold. De Gaulle pointedly had not asked Kennedy to stop off in France on his trip that takes in West Germany, Ireland, Britain and Italy.

Of all the days in the year on which he could have belittled the United States, De Gaulle picked the worst one, last Jan. 14, the day Kennedy delivered his State of the Union message to Congress.

That was an extremely sunny, optimistic Kennedy message which said "How fares the Grand Alliance? Free Europe is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

De Gaulle made the words look ludicrous: before Kennedy got them out of his mouth. The Frenchman held a news conference just a few hours before Kennedy spoke. The timing was no accident. He holds few such conferences.

And, when he does, the questions have to be submitted beforehand. In summary, De Gaulle did these four things:

1. He rejected this country's proposal for a multinational nuclear force and proclaimed his determination to build a separate French nuclear force.

2. He slammed Europe's Common Market door in Britain's face, treating his British ally as an outsider.

3. He said France opposed a British hopes for a united European economic effort and weakened both economic and political unity among the Allies.

4. He said France opposed a common market "under American leadership and domination."

This was a slap in the face. It galled the United States, which resented the suggestion it was trying to run Europe.

4. He complained that while the United States talked of a multinational NATO nuclear force for Europe, that force would remain under U.S. control.

He hit the mark there. Under law passed by Congress, this government must retain full control of nuclear weapons, deciding whether or not to use them.

On April 19 De Gaulle kicked the United States again by suggesting France could not be sure of the intentions of its Allies, much less of its enemies.

In short, from the American view, he had endangered the whole alliance.

Against this background it is understandable why Kennedy on his present European trip has repeatedly assured the Allies the United States would defend Europe from attack even if it meant attack on the United States.

He said Tuesday that "the United States will risk its cities to defend yours because we need your freedom to protect ours."

But he went far beyond that by implying De Gaulle was playing into Soviet hands by casting doubt on the alliance and American intentions.

He said: "Those who would cast doubt on our pledge—those who would separate Europe from America or split one ally from another—would only give aid and comfort to the men who make themselves our adversaries and welcome any Western disarray."

He called separate "national deterrents"—meaning De Gaulle's plans for a nuclear force separate from NATO's—turning "the clock back."

He went beyond the political and military and called again in most earnest terms for the kind of European economic unity De Gaulle has prevented.

Any former coziness in the Kennedy-De Gaulle relationship is gone.

Rains Boon to Arkansas Crops
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The weekly weather and crop bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture indicates that most Arkansas crops are showing good growth due to recent rains.

The report said some northwest and west central counties were still short of moisture.

Rice, cotton, soybeans, late hay and corn now show good prospects, and peaches and tomatoes are being marketed in volume.

The bulletin said pastures: continue below normal in many counties, but generally are showing good growth. Cattle are beginning to put on some weight and milk flow is increasing.

Transfer Requests Denied by Board
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The Fort Smith School Board has denied the requests of four Negro students to transfer from all-Negro Lincoln High School to all-white Northside High School.

In taking the action Monday night, the board said it would follow its step-by-step integration policy of allowing Negro seventh graders to attend white schools this fall. Integration began on the first-grade level six years ago.

The Fort Smith School District administration office said it did not know how many Negroes now are attending once-white schools, because it does not keep records by race.

Travs Lead, Game Called in the 8th

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers held a 2-0 lead over Buffalo Wednesday night when the game was called after eight innings of play to allow the Buffalo team to catch a plane at Memphis.

The game will be resumed in the ninth inning August 29, the next date Buffalo comes to Little Rock.

The game was called at 9:30 p.m., precisely at the time agreed for halting the start of another inning.

Bobby Malkmus singled, Buffalo pitcher Dick Ricketts gave up two walks and Danny Cater sacrificed to right field in the sixth inning to put the Travelers ahead 1-0.

Back to back singles by Lee Elia and Bob Lipski and a sacrifice fly by Malkmus handed Arkansas its second point.

Gary Kroll held the Bisons scoreless until the seventh inning, when he left the game with what was apparently a pulled muscle in his right side.

Relief pitcher Billy Smith put down a Buffalo threat in the eighth by getting Dick Smith to hit into a double play with two men on base.

Wimbledon

Hopeful Hits

Tough Rival

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the United States' top hope of taking the Wimbledon tennis championship, runs into a confident, determined countryman in third round play today.

"Let him come," said 19-year-old Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the first American Negro man ever to play in the historic championships.

"If I play well, I'm capable of beating anybody," Ashe said. Ashe and McKinley were among five American men who survived second round play Wednesday, but dark horse hope Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., fell before veteran Ramanathan Krishnan of India.

Krishnan, twice a Wimbledon semifinalist and long-time Davis Cup star, beat the 20-year-old unseeded Ralston 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 12-10.

McKinley, top-ranked in the United States and the only seeded American at Wimbledon, continued to show sometimes brilliant, sometimes indifferent play.

McKinley, seeded fourth, whipped past Alan Lane of Australia 7-5, 6-4, 8-6.

Ashe showed a wide variety of shots in a 3½ hour, rain-interrupted 5-7, 7-5, 11-9, 3-6, 63 triumph over John Hildebrand of Australia.

Seven American girls out of the 13 who started are still in contention. They are Torrey Fretz of Harrisburg, Pa.; Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif.; Carl Hanks, St. Louis; Carole Caldwell, Santa Monica, Calif.; Mrs. Donna Floyd Fales, New York; Billie Jean Moffitt, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knobe of the Canal Zone.

Gilliam Seems to Have Jinx on Redlegs

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Junior Gilliam is a 34-year-old infielder who sometimes is called old. Ron Perranoski is a relief pitcher who sometimes is called busy.

The Cincinnati Reds, however, are more likely to call them other things.

Gilliam has beaten them with run-scoring eighth inning doubles for two nights in a row and Perranoski has finished two of the last three games, all of which Cincinnati has lost.

Gilliam and Perranoski provided the key for the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 triumph over the Reds Wednesday night, completing a sweep of the three-game set and running the Dodgers' string to four.

It kept the second-place Dodgers a half game off the pace set by St. Louis and dropped the fourth-place Reds three games behind.

The Cards maintained their narrow hold on the top spot with a 6-5 decision over San Francisco, dropping the Giants 1½ games behind.

Hapless Houston ended a 10-game losing string, scoring five runs in the 13th inning and beating Milwaukee 7-2. Tim Lincecum's grand slam homer with two out in the 14th brought the New York Mets an 8-6 triumph over Chicago and Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 6-2.

In the American League, the New York Yankees protected their lead with a 3-2 triumph over threatening Chicago, Boston edged Cleveland 6-5, Minnesota whipped Detroit 6-1 and the Los Angeles Angels swept a two-night doubleheader from Baltimore 3-1 and 3-2.

Charley James cracked a bases-loaded single over San Francisco drawn-in outfield for the Cardinals' tie-breaking run in the ninth. Ken Boyer drove in four Cardinals runs with a single and three-run homer while Orlando Cepeda hit his 15th homer for the Giants.

Houston had scored only six runs in losing 10 straight. Bob Lillis singled in a run, Johnny Temple doubled in two more, another scored on an error and still another on a wild pitch. Hal Woodeshick, 7-3, won it with six innings of shutout relief pitching.

Harkness slammed a two-out 3-2 pitch by Jim Brewer into the lower right field stands in the 14th inning for his first grand slammer. The Cubs appeared to have put it out of reach on Billy Williams' two-run homer in the top of the inning.

The Pirates let in an unearned run in the fourth, which proved to be the winner, and the Phillies added three more in a wild eighth. One came in while a Pirate infielder argued with an umpire and another when a throw for a force play hit a Phillie runner.

Europe Has Sex and Spy Scandals

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A trio of sex and spy scandals in Europe and the United Nations seems to have aroused some curiosity but little excitement in official Washington.

The FBI won't say anything officially, but U.S. agents obviously are investigating the Profumo affair, the Swedish spy scandal and an alleged call girl racket at the United Nations.

Neither in the Kennedy administration or in Congress, is contending that the succession of scandals has wrenched the security of the United States.

Most officials are keeping their views to themselves.

Angels Come Alive, Win 2 From Orioles

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Down in the second division since early May and overlooked in the American League pennant scramble, the Los Angeles Angels found themselves in fifth place today after sweeping a two-night doubleheader from Baltimore 3-1 and 3-2 Wednesday.

The Angels, third in last year's pennant chase, climbed from seventh place and dropped the slumping Orioles into sixth on strong pitching by newly acquired Paul Foytack and ace Ken McBride.

Making his first start since he was acquired from Detroit — and his first since last Sept. 12 — Foytack allowed three hits before retiring in the ninth and came away with the victory on Julio Navarro's relief help.

McBride won his sixth straight with a three-hitter in the nightcap as the Angels posted their ninth victory in 12 games and handed the Orioles their 22nd defeat in 30 games.

The first-place New York Yankees moved one game in front of second-place Chicago by beating the White Sox 3-2 on home runs by Tom Tresh and Roger Maris. It was the Yankees' first victory in five games with the Chicagoans this season.

Minnesota used two homers by Bob Allison and one by Earl Battey to subdue Detroit 6-1. Boston edged Cleveland 6-5 on a ninth inning homer by Ed Bressoud, his second of the game. The Washington at Kansas City game was rained out.

National League-leading St. Louis nipped San Francisco 6-5, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Cincinnati 5-2, Houston downed Milwaukee 7-2 in 13 innings, Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 and the New York Mets outlasted Chicago's Cubs 8-6 in 14 innings.

Tresh's 12th homer and Maris' 16th gave Whitey Ford an imposing 11-3 record. Ford wilted in 90-degree heat and needed Hal Reniff's help in the seventh. The Yankees moved ahead to stay in the fourth inning on a double by Tresh and Elston Howard's single off loser Gary Peters, 4-4.

Home run leader Allison hit Nos. 18 and 19 and now has a league-leading 52 runs batted in while Battey connected for his 16th homer and brought his RBI total to 43. Vic Power's bases-loaded single in the seventh cracked a 1-1 tie and brought Dick Stigman 6-7, the victory with Bill Dailey's relief aid. Bill Faul, 3-3, took the loss.

The Red Sox made it four in a row over the Indians when Bressoud connected off Pedro Ramos, 3-2, in the ninth after Cleveland had tied the score in the top of the inning on a pinch-hit, two-run homer by Joe Adcock. All Boston's runs came on homers with Russ Nixon and Chuck Schilling also connecting. Jack Lamabe, working in relief, was the winner for a 4-0 record.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Profumo sex-security scandal has shaken Britain. In Sweden an air force colonel has been arrested on charges of spying for the Soviet Union and at the United Nations there are reports that U.S. security agents are investigating a call girl racket that catered to diplomats. All this has produced in official Washington a curious silence, the subject of the following article.

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A trio of sex and spy scandals in Europe and the United Nations seems to have aroused some curiosity but little excitement in official Washington.

The FBI won't say anything officially, but U.S. agents obviously are investigating the Profumo affair, the Swedish spy scandal and an alleged call girl racket at the United Nations.

State Road Group Would Up Gas Tax

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The other four members of the Arkansas Highway Commission lined up today in general support of Chairman Wayne Hampton's position that a one-cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax is needed to finance Arkansas' road-building needs.

But the other commissioners were not as emphatic about the tax proposal as Hampton, who said, "I'm for the tax now, or as soon as we can get it."

Hampton made this remark when asked by newsmen if he might suggest that Gov. Orval E. Faubus include a gasoline tax in his call to an expected special legislative session.

Hampton said he had not discussed the matter with the governor and did not say whether he plans to.

Hampton broached the gasoline tax matter in a recent speech at Pine Bluff. He said then, and he repeated at today's commission meeting, that demands on the Highway Department's road-building fund had increased to a point where the department could not handle the job with existing revenues.

Commissioner Truman Baker of Searcy said he felt additional financing was needed and that he believes Arkansas voters would prefer the tax increase to a bond issue.

Commissioner Bill Joe Denton of Wilson said it was simply a matter of being unable to fill all the requests with the available money and noted that the gasoline tax had not been increased since 1934.

Commissioner Arnil Taylor of Clarksville hammered on this point. "I'm sure that all other taxes have been increased since 1934," he said. "The only reason we have been able to get along all these years is that we are selling more gasoline."

Taylor said it was not the Highway Commission which needed more money but "the people over the state who are clamoring for dust-proof roads."

He said the financial burden of the Highway Department had increased tremendously since 1934 with many thousands of miles added to the state highway system, not to mention interstate highway construction which is tremendously expensive.

Commissioner John Harsh of Magnolia did not endorse the tax proposal but he said, "I'll be the first to admit that everybody needs more money."

Hampton indicated that he would oppose any attempt to divide a tax increase, if one is passed, among the state, counties and cities.

"It wouldn't do anybody any good to scatter the money out," he said.

Several legislators have indicated they might go along with a tax-increase proposal if the cities and counties get a share.

Guild Accused in B-Girl Racket

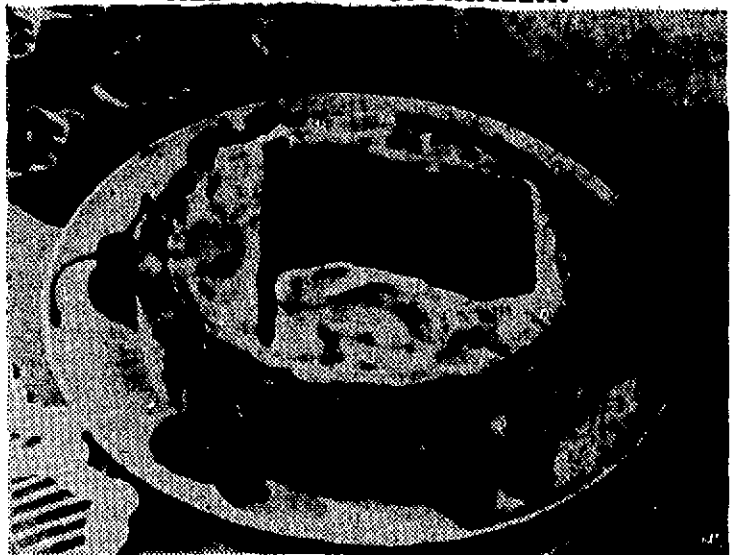

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations Subcommittee accused officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA) Tuesday of conniving with international vice rackets which held some "B-girl" members of the union in "literal bondage."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., the subcommittee chairman, in a report to the Senate urged that the labor department force on AGVA a house-cleaning he said the union's officials show no sign of attempting themselves.

The subcommittee based its report findings on testimony received in public hearings a year ago, June 12-26, 1962, but said it has seen no evidence since then of any intent to clean up conditions.

In the testimony, B-girls were described as entertainer-hostesses in taverns and nightclubs who would sit with customers at tables and solicit them to buy them

RED CHERRY SPARKLER!

For that Fourth of July celebration in the back yard, this gay Red Cherry "Flag" Dessert will match the fireworks! It's a great last-minute time-saver, too... make it early in the day, decorate at serving time.

Let this bright and delicious dessert top off grilled hot dog rolls, made simply by inserting a pre-cooked frankfurter, and a strip of cheese in a long roll... then wrap firmly in bacon and hold with toothpicks. Broil over a slow fire until well browned. These go well with a big green salad, and dill pickles.

Red Cherry Flag Mold

- 1 package (3 oz.) cherry, black cherry, or mixed fruit flavor gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup cold water
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 8 ladyfingers, (slit)
- 1/4 cup chopped maraschino cherries
- Sweetened whipped cream
- 1/3 cup flaked coconut (optional)
- 12 additional maraschino cherries

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and almond extract. Pour 3/4 cup of mixture into 9-inch pie pan. Chill until slightly thickened. Line sides of pan with ladyfingers. Chill until set but not firm. Chill remaining gelatin until slightly thickened. Place bowl in ice and water and whip gelatin until fluffy and thick. Fold in cherries. Pour over gelatin in pan. Chill until firm. Unmold. Spread with sweetened whipped cream leaving a flag shape open in center. Sprinkle with coconut if desired. Decorate with additional cherries. Makes 6 servings.

Come And Get It Breakfast

Folks won't be pokey coming 'round for an outdoor breakfast when the shout "Come and get it!" sounds.

Here is a menu and a recipe for an out-of-doors breakfast from a Southern Illinois man who has presided at many a grill. This is a quick-and-easy escape "from it all." The picnic basket is packed with doughnuts and instant coffee. Centers of bread slices are cut out with a three-inch cookie cutter ahead of time. Slices and cut-outs travel to the picnic site in the bread wrapper. Into the basket at the last minute goes the bacon, the carton of eggs and the cans of frozen orange juice.

While the fire is readying the coals for cooking the eggs, the water for the instant coffee comes to a boil. Folks can enjoy their orange juice all the while.

To fashion BACON AND EGG POKEYS for six, do this: Brown 12 bacon slices on one side on a griddle. Drain off the fat. Turn bacon, criss-crossing pairs. Place slices of bread atop the bacon. Break an egg into each hole. When done on one side, turn. Toast bread on other side and finish cooking the egg. Brown the bread centers at the side as the "pokeys" cook. Serve immediately to eager eaters.

drinks.

The report described AGVA, a union for entertainers, as a branch of the Associated Actors and Artists of America which is affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

The report dealt at length with an alleged recruitment of B-girls in Canada through an employment agency linked with AGVA with false promises of teaching them a career. It charged that some of the girls were forced into prostitution and "held in literal bondage" by mobster, night club owners in Hurley, Wis., and Calumet City, Ind. It also told of the recruitment of Cuban girls in the past.

The report blamed some officials and employees of the union for the conditions.

The report denounced Jackie Bright of Miami, Fla., who resigned after the hearings as administrative secretary and operating head of AGVA.

It accused him of extortion and other misdeeds, including failure to protect the rights of girl entertainers.

Dressed in Nothing But a Blush

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Carroll Baker, dressed in nothing but a blush, banned all but her cameramen and director from the opening scene of her new film.

Carroll, 32, a lissome blonde with ample curves, plays it in the nude. She was a little nervous. Only director Edward Dmytryk and cameraman Joe MacDonald were permitted to watch Tuesday.

But a film clip slipped from the Paramount set, showed Carroll had nothing to worry about. As one technician said:

"It's a view any woman could be proud of."

Carroll, who plays Hollywood sex symbol Rina Marlow, in "The Carpetbaggers," said later:

"Film players are called upon to do many things for the sake of realism. And if it's a vital and integral part of the story, actors

Young GOPs Discussing Rights Stand

By JERRY RANKIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Young Republicans were hammering out a civil rights stand today at a national convention that has turned into a mass rally backing Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for president.

About 1,000 persons had registered for the 13th biennial convention, with Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield scheduled to make the first speech today.

Andrew Hunter of Massachusetts, chairman of the resolutions committee, predicted a civil rights statement probably would produce the most controversy. He also foresaw statements on Cuba, Laos and other topics "which won't make the President happy."

Bob Cohen of New Hampshire was appointed to head a five-member subcommittee — representing all parts of the country — to come up with a civil rights comment.

At an earlier news conference, should live their parts to the best of their ability."

A studio spokesman said the producers aren't too worried about getting the scene through the censors.

"It's a part of the story," he said. "They're pretty good these days about not cutting a scene like this when it's part of the story."

Bidding Fierce on Road Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bidding was fierce on two of the five road-building contracts let by the Arkansas Highway Commission today.

The Wright Construction Co. of Columbus, Ga., outbid the Ben the two candidates for chairman of the Young Republican National Federation had sharp words for President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

Charles McDewitt, an Idaho legislator and lawyer, said it was "too far-reaching and it invades personal rights and privacy."

Donald Lukens, Republican secretary of the House of Representatives Rules Committee, declared the Kennedy program "goes too far. The administration has tried to pass the buck to Congress."

Lukens and McDewitt called themselves conservatives not committed to any GOP presidential prospect. They said they would support the nominee to be picked in San Francisco in 1964. Many delegates regarded both men, however, leaning toward Goldwater.

Goldwater, scheduled to speak Thursday night, apparently is in store for a rousing reception. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., canceled a scheduled appearance to attend to business in Washington.

The big Arizona delegation admitted it might attempt to bypass Young Republican rules and achieve a convention endorsement for Goldwater.

Hogan Construction Co. of Little Rock by only $6,235 on a contract on which the low bid was $3,044,337.

The difference was only $54 between Four Brothers, Inc., of Sweethome, the apparent low bidder at $237,234, and Co-Ark Construction Co. of North Little Rock on a project in Lonoke County.

Commission Will Take Its Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission indicated today that it would take its time about selecting a replacement for Highway Director F. R. Oliver, who left April 30.

"We've got a pretty good man on the job right now," said Commission Arnil Taylor when newsmen brought the matter up at the commission meeting. "We may go on like this for some time."

Taylor referred to Chief Engineer Ward Goodman, who is acting as director.

Other commissioners did not comment, but they nodded agreement to Taylor's remark.

Mayor Had to Pay That Fine

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor Robert Gardner and his police chief cleaned out the police files on unpaid parking tickets Tuesday. They found 176 unpaid tickets.

One ticket, two years old, belonged to the mayor. He paid a $2 fine.

Pleased With Business 1st Six Months

EDITOR'S NOTE—The first six months of 1963 have come up with pleasant economic surprises that still leave many unconvinced they are as real as they sound. In this, first of two articles on the economy at midyear, Sam Dawson, AP Business News Analyst, looks at the gains and at the problems which can't be swept under the rug.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The year that stumped the experts is a lot more vigorous at the halfway point than most hoped—or than some can believe. And even so it is castigated for not being good enough.

The stock market on average regained almost all of the ground lost in the first half of 1962. Industrial production, personal incomes, corporate profits, retail sales, employment, all have risen to new highs.

Steel workers and management agreed on a new contract without a strike or threat of one. And some steel product prices were raised without a White House crackdown. A rail strike, perennial threat, has been postponed again.

The auto industry has achieved that rarity, a second straight big year for sales. Household appliances are selling well again.

Cautious first of the year estimates for little, if any, economic growth this year have been raised. The Gross National Product fooled the experts, both business and government. The dollar volume of all goods and services rose from an annual rate of $563.5 billion at the end of 1962 to an estimated $580 billion at mid-year.

Then why the half-hearted enthusiasm in some quarters?

First is the rise in the unemployment rate.

Second, despite the hopes

Wife Claims He Beat Her Up

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The bride of actor James Craig claims he beat her.

Jane Valentine, 29, sued for divorce Tuesday, asking for $500 monthly support and a restraining order preventing him from annoying her or disposing of assets pending a hearing.

Craig 31, and Miss Valentine were married last March 17 and separated June 21, her Superior Court complaint said.

raised by the steel labor pact, many industries still face rising operating costs only partly offset by mechanization.

Third is the failure to solve the problem of the deficit of international payments, now running ahead of last year's $2.2 billion.

Fourth, great expectations at the start of the year for a trade-widening pact between the United States and Europe were jolted by France's veto of Britain's bid for entrance into the European Common Market.

Midyear also finds businessmen trying to adjust to new tax rules on expense accounts.

The six months have seen such comparative novelties in recent years as soaring sugar prices, followed by investigations and partial retreats, and by wheat farmers' rejection of a high government subsidy coupled with strict production controls.

The general public remained fairly calm through it all. Increased personal incomes, now running at an annual rate of $458.2 billion, resulted in both greater spending and saving to topals. There was no rush to stock up in fear of more inflation, nor to retrench in fear of recession.

The speculative fever that marked the last of 1961 and first part of 1962 was largely absent this year in the stock market.

Apparently people neither expected too much nor too little. Nor are they overly impressed by all the glittering new statistics.

Friday: What the last half promises.

DAR Willing to Undergo a Tax Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution is ready to cooperate in any investigation of its tax-exempt status or other matters, says its president-general.

"There is nothing secret about the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution—its policies, actions or purposes," Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan said Tuesday.

Her statement followed a speech by Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore., criticizing the DAR for sometimes "ill tempered" views on government.

Mrs. Neuberger also questioned whether the Senate should pay for printing part of the organization's annual report and asked the Internal Revenue Service to look into the matter of tax exemption for organizations such as the DAR.

Mrs. Duncan did not mention Mrs. Neuberger's Monday speech in the Senate, but said "the recent newspaper-carried statement is misleading."

Mrs. Duncan said the printing of the DAR's report at taxpayers' expense "has always been the voluntary act of Congress" since the DAR was chartered by congressional act in 1895 as a historical, educational and patriotic organization.

"It always has been and remains today just such an organization," she said.

On the question of tax exemption, Mrs. Duncan said the DAR has never been operated for profit. The organization pays business taxes of more than $20,000 a year on its Constitution Hall here, she added.

Mrs. Neuberger referred to the DAR's report as "right-wing political propaganda."

Mrs. Duncan said she was "at something of a loss" to understand such a statement.

Food Variety for July 4 Picnics

Weekly Food Review
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Packing a picnic basket for the Fourth of July will be simple with the wide variety of economy eating candidates being featured at supermarkets this weekend.

For sandwiches, there are smoked hams, pork butts, cold turkey and roast beef.

An inviting take-along dish currently being featured is fried chicken.

For cooking at the scene, there are specials on a wide range of steaks, ground beef, spare ribs and frankfurters.

Turkeys are selling for about 39 cents a pound in many shops as dealers seek to clear out frozen stocks to make way for fall arrivals.

Beef prices have shown little sign of breaking out of the low pattern of recent weeks. Best buys are in round, chuck and rib roasts. One national chain offers bottom round at 69 cents a pound and top round at 75 in the New York area.

Broiler-fryer prices run about 39 cents a pound but are featured at lower levels many places. Some Southwestern shops are tagging them as low as 25 cents a pound this weekend.

Picnic vegetable offerings include low priced cabbage for cole slaw, fresh tomatoes, a variety of salad green, carrots, green onions and radishes.

A star fruit attraction is the peach, budget priced now thanks to a crop that's almost one-fifth larger than last years. Also economical are watermelon, cantaloupes, honeydews and bananas.

Sweet cherries are in short supply this season and prices show it.

Americans Blamed by the Irish

By HUGH MULLIGAN
DUNAGHSTOWN, Ireland (AP)

Who threw the concrete topping on Mrs. Ryan's barnyard?

"It's an American trick," most Irish newspapers said today. They blamed the U. S. government for the startling changes at the ancestral homestead President Kennedy will visit Thursday.

The Americans are denying everything and shifting the accusing finger toward the Irish government.

Whoever is responsible for the changes, the old homestead won't be the same place Kennedy visited in 1947 when he was a congressman.

The tidy but dirty barnyard, where the widow Ryan's 70 chickens and three cows once bled away, has been covered with concrete and now resembles a parking lot.

A huge manure heap has disappeared from the adjoining field, where the President's helicopter will put down.

All the farm animals have been shunted out of sight. There are no pigs in the pasture.

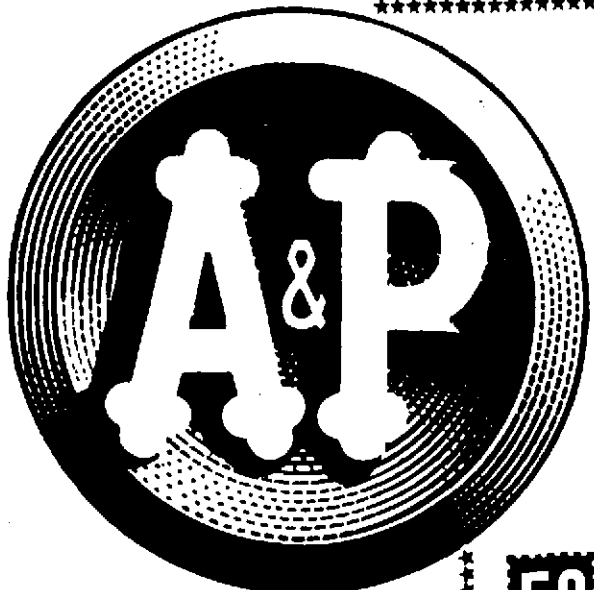

A concrete porch and an indoor tiled toilet—known locally as John's john—have been added to the comfortable Ryan cottage.

The cottage is a few yards from the humble tin-roofed hut that Patrick Kennedy, the President's great-grandfather, occupied before emigrating to the United States. The hut is now a storage shed.

Mary Ryan, a Kennedy before her marriage, is the President's third cousin and his best-known relative in Ireland.

Despite the changes that have been made about the place, Mrs. Ryan is absolutely determined to give her illustrious kinsman a simple Irish welcome.

She plans to brew him a cup of tea and serve some tangy Irish soda bread. That is all he is going to get, she said.

New and Easy Money-Saving Main Dish

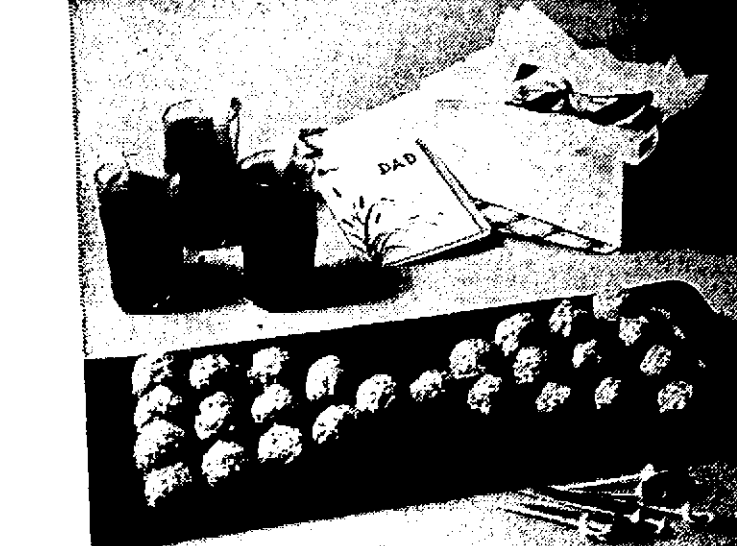

Here's a skilletful of good eating that's as easy on the budget as it is on the cook. Smoked sliced beef is the meaty ingredient which adds its good flavor to this main dish.

Cubed raw potatoes, scalloped in this fashion in a skillet atop the range, have all the old-fashioned flavor goodness of those oven-baked—but are a breeze to prepare. The starch from the raw potatoes blends with the butter and evaporated milk to bring about a smooth, creamy sauce during the cooking so that no flour is needed for thickening. For just good plain scalloped potatoes anytime, omit the beef and cook in this fashion.

CHIPPED BEEF AND POTATO SCALLOP
1/4 cup butter 1 cup boiling water
1 pkg (3 1/2 oz.) smoked 1 tall can evaporated milk
sliced beef (1 1/2 cups)
1/2 cup chopped onion Salt and pepper
3 large potatoes, peeled 1 tablespoon dried or fresh and cubed (4 cups) cut parsley (optional)

Melt butter in a large skillet. Pull beef into small pieces and cook gently in butter over low heat until edges begin to curl. Remove beef from pan and set aside. Add onion and potatoes to skillet. Cook over low heat until most of fat is absorbed and the onion is transparent, about 5 to 6 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add boiling water and evaporated milk; continue cooking over low heat until potatoes are tender and sauce begins to thicken, about 25 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add 1 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper and beef mix well and cook until heated through, about 5 to 6 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in parsley and serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Special Treat—For A Special Dad

Interestingly enough, June is the month in which Father's Day and National Bow Tie Week are celebrated—and there's an idea for Father's gift! But, be SPECIAL in the presentation of the gift, and some time in the afternoon get Dad seated in his favorite chair. Bring in a tray of delectable toasted coconut chilled chicken appetizers with tall cool drinks. Arrange the chicken "bites" on a tray in bowl-like formation. Fun! And, by the way, why not get Mother to ask some of Dad's special friends in for the party!

Coconut-Chicken Appetizers
1 1/4 cups packaged moist toasted coconut
1 cup finely chopped cooked chicken
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1/2 cup canned condensed cream of mushroom soup

Blend 1/4 cup toasted coconut with the chicken, celery, pimiento, and onion. Add salt, Tabasco sauce, and soup; mix well. Shape into small balls, using about 2 teaspoonsful for each. Roll in remaining toasted coconut. Cover. Chill at least 3 hours. Makes 3 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

Some Schools to Lose, Few to Get More

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An economic factor changed by the 1960 census will result in some school districts getting less money than they expected from an anticipated $3,375,000 increase in state minimum foundation aid funds.

The factor is the number of persons gainfully employed in the school district. It has not changed until this year since the 1950 census and districts which have changed from a farm to industrial economy during this period will feel its impact.

State aid is computed under a complicated formula, based largely on average daily attendance, but hinging also on indicators of local ability to pay, such as the number of automobile registrations, public utility assessments, sales taxes collected in the district and the number of gainfully employed.

Harvey Snell, budget director of the Education Department, said it had been 12 years since the factor on gainfully employed had changed and the change had been quite drastic in some districts. He specifically mentioned Conway and Searcy, both of which have ridden high on the tide of industrialization in the state.

Even these districts, however, Snell said, will get more state money this year, but the increase will not be as large as it would have been if the factor had not changed.

Some districts, particularly those which have had a decline in average daily attendance, will get less money even though the total amount for distribution will rise from $39.8 million during the past year to $43,225,000 during the coming year.

Snell said the new formula was computed on an estimated 7,000 pupil increase in the statewide average daily attendance.

Misses Mark by Only 250 Miles

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Clarence Wilkerson left Dallas, Tex., on a bus bound for Newport, Ark. He took a little nap and woke up Tuesday in St. Louis, 250 miles past his destination.

Wilkerson, 40, of Morenci, Ariz., was going to join his wife in Newport, where she is visiting relatives.

Wilkerson arranged with other bus passengers to wake him up at Newport. But they too fell asleep. Mrs. Wilkerson saw the bus arrive and depart at Newport with no husband debarking.

Wilkerson, by now deep in slumber, didn't even wake up at the next stop at Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Continental Trailways gave Wilkerson a return trip ticket to Newport.

He said he will stay awake this trip.

Cool Off With Iced Tea

Next to a dip in the pool or a visit to an air-conditioned movie, a tall glass of iced tea is just about the best summer cooler there is. It's a refresher that really quenches your thirst and, because it's so low in calories and cost, you can drink all you want, all the day long. To make a big family-size pitcherful use this easy open saucepan method.

Iced Tea by the Pitcherful

Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from the heat and immediately add 1/2 cup loose tea or 15 teabags. Stir and let stand for 5 minutes uncovered. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water. Or use the convenient instant teas, allowing about 4 tablespoons of the soluble powder to 2 quarts of cold tap water. Serve in ice-filled glasses with lemon and sugar to taste. Or serve it tropical style with fruit kabobs made by loading a swizzle stick or sipper with a cube of pineapple, a grape, a quarter slice of orange, a red cherry, a slice of lime and a strawberry.

At Arkadelphia the Indians mined the salt springs east of town, supplied their own needs, and used salt as an article of trade with other Indians.

The White River is well known as one of the best streams for fishing, and from this stream many mussels have been taken, buttons.

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

MULTA B VICKY RINELLI

It was a beautiful spring day in Mexico City. The jacarandas were in full bloom. The purple, the pink, the yellow blossoms made Paseo Reforma look like a fiesta. Ingeniero Ricardo was humming as he sped to the office of Construcciones S.A.

He had just closed the $150,000 American government order. His commission would be equivalent to $7,500. His wife Maria wouldn't believe it. Only this morning they tickered about making the last $20 or 250 pesos do until payday. Five days away. He had given her 125 pesos and kept the rest.

Ricardo kept humming and humming, unmindful of the speed.

"Alto! Alto!" Commanding words startled and made him pull over to the curb. He stopped his car. The policeman came over, book in hand.

Visions of a big multa for speeding, payday, five days away, and only 125 pesos quickly sobered Ricardo.

"Where do you think you're going in such a hurry?"

Ricardo's spirits tumbled.

"But Officer, it's such a beautiful day! I just kept admiring the lovely jacaranda trees and buildings and didn't notice."

"Don't you know you're supposed to keep your eyes on the road, not the trees and buildings?"

"I know, Officer, but it's such a lovely day. It reminded me of the time I was a soldier and General Perez was..."

"General Antonio Perez Garcia? You know him, too?"

"Why, yes."

The officer smiled. "I served under him for basic training. Yes, General Perez was good to me. You won't believe it, but in one week he made me a sergeant!"

The officer chuckled. "Well, any friend of General Perez is a friend of mine."

Ricardo grinned. "Not only is he a friend, but we are related on my mother's side. See on my license, my name is Ricardo Salinas y Perez."

The officer closed his ticket book. He leaned over.

"Since you are a relative of General Perez, will you do me the honor of drinking a toast to General Perez?"

Ricardo accepted readily, hoping the officer forget his speeding ticket.

The Cantina was next to the police station. The officer, whose name was Robert Montalban was warmly greeted by the other officers who were already drinking.

"Que tal! Come over here. There's plenty of room." The seated officers beckoned.

Ricardo followed Officer Montalban who introduced him to all present. The names meant nothing. All he could think of was 125 pesos and so many people drinking.

As they sat and drank, Officer Montalban kept talking about General Perez, and how together they held the opposition until reinforcements came. Ricardo, too, told of how the General outwitted the leader of the rebels.

Other officers who knew the General had tales to tell. The drinks kept coming. Soon there wouldn't be room on the table because of bottles and glasses. Ricardo had always felt the Mexican Cantina custom of leaving glasses and bottles on the table until the bill was paid was too crowding. More police officers came, drank and left. None paid the bill. Ricardo felt it would have been better to have paid the "multa," for the bill was surely over the 125 pesos he had...

Ah, his wife, Maria... he excused himself to make a phone call.

He found a phone booth—there was one at the rear of the cantina, and finally put through a call to Maria. It seemed a long time till she answered.

"Hello, Maria? You haven't spent the 125 pesos I gave you this morning? ... Will you send it to me with Pablo to the Cantina Tequila, next to the police station ... You won't? Listen, Maria, querida, while driving to the office I was stopped for speeding. So I wouldn't have to pay the multa I joined the officer for a drink at the cantina. Now the drinks total more than I have money to pay... but it's true, querida ..."

The torrent of words and bang of the phone still rang in Ricardo's ear as he returned to the table.

Officer Montalban was there with the waiter counting bottles and glasses. Ricardo began to perspire profusely. He reached for his back pocket. Officer Montalban stopped him.

"Oh, no you don't! What kind of a gentleman do you think I am? When a Mexican Caballer extends the invitation, he pays the bill."

Ricardo continued to withdraw his handkerchief from his back pocket to wipe his perspiring brow and said appreciatively, "Muchas gracias. Many thanks."

Allocates Money for Bridge Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission allocated $50,700 today for construction of six bridges on Highway 306 between Hunter and Colt in St. Francis County.

The work will be done by state forces as a betterment project. Other betterment projects approved today included: Construction of bridges over Hollywood Creek and Terre Noire Creek on Highway 53 in Clark County, $32,500.

Construction of an automatic crossing protection device on Highway 79, where the Cotton Belt Railroad crosses it near Altheimer, $8,000.

Replacement of seven rotten timber bridges on Highway 57 northward from its junction with Highway 4 in Ouachita County.

Double Wall Plastics Keep Drinks Hot or Cold

Summertime is the right season to introduce your family and guests to practical and gay plastics that cut housework to a minimum. They will like the picnic air of gingham checks in new table accessories that are insulated to keep hot foods hot and iced drinks cold. No coasters required, since the double thickness of plastic, with air space in between, holds food at the right temperature, prevents "sweating," leaves no rings on the table.

Informal buffets, patio tables, boat picnics are more appreciated than sit-down meals around the family dining room table this time of year, especially by the hostess who can carry everything off with a lighthearted air on an unbreakable tray. Lustrous double-wall tumblers, mugs for soup and coffee, double old-fashioned glasses, an ice bucket that doubles as a wine cooler, a pitcher for iced drinks, are all newly available in houseware departments.

Indoors or out, set a colorful summer table by combining the "gingham" plastic service with easy-care place mats or tablecloths. Vinyl plastic backed with urethane foam, or vinyl backed with flannel, protect tables and absorb clutter. For special parties make a festive tablecloth or mats out of man-made fibers in cool colors and flower prints. These wash and dry with little or no ironing.

Wisdom Comes Out in Folk Sayings

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The robust wisdom of a people is expressed in folk sayings—in proverbs and mottoes.

"Know thyself," counseled the ancient Greeks, and thereby said it all.

Since then we have become a great deal more verbose.

Through most of human history, folk wisdom has been expressed in direct sayings and forthright advice.

Thus said Benjamin Franklin, an American wellspring of this form of knowledge:

"Penny wise, pound foolish." "If a man could have half his wishes, he would double his troubles."

"He that teaches himself hath a fool for a master."

"Love your neighbor, but don't pull down your hedge."

"If you would know the value of money, try to borrow some."

Many a living room then bloomed with samplers that said, "God Bless Our Happy Home."

Simpler times were exemplified by simpler sayings.

Now we live in a complex and confusing time, and our folk wisdom is expressed in complex sayings with a reverse twist. Our mottoes have become as schizophrenic as our thoughts, and reflect the double talk that has become our normal language.

We communicate by speaking backwards.

Go into any office or factory in the land and you'll see on wall and desk the clouded counsel of our day. I have at hand a small book of these said witticisms entitled "Signs of Our Times."

Here are a few examples of what the book calls "the choicest, most hilarious contemporary signs ever created":

"If you don't understand it, oppose it!"

"In case of nuclear attack, run like hell!"

"It's better to give than to receive, so what have you brought me?"

"If I weren't so busy, I'd take time off to join in the confusion."

That seems to be the key word to our attitude today—confusion. Such mixed-up counsels of despair we give each other, and seek thereby a consolation more wry than ribald.

If a people can be judged by their mottoes, then we dwell in

Sentiment Means Much to Actors

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Show biz folk, who dearly love sentiment, got a feast of it this week. The occasion: reunion of Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney onstage after 18 years.

The event took place at "Television City," where Garland was taping the first of 32 variety shows she will do for CBS next season. The network's luminaries turned out gleefully for the show—Lucille Ball, Dick Van Dyke, Jack Benny, plus movie types like Natalie Wood, Van Heflin, etc.

Sentiment aside, it was a revelation to watch the pair working together again, you're not supposed to know what the show contains, since it won't air until Sept. 29. But I can report that Garland and Rooney show why they have been stars for 30-odd years (he is 42, she 41) yet don't rely on old-timey gimmicks.

Afterward, the Mick allowed himself an affectionate glance at their mutual past.

"I remember the day I met this girl," he reflected. "Frances Gumm—How could I forget a name like that?"

"We were both going to a professional school in Hollywood and we were about 6. I went home that day and told my mom, 'I meet a girl today named Frances Gumm; she was kinda sticky.' The joke didn't go over so well then, either."

Their first movie together was "Love Finds Andy Hardy" (1938) and they followed with "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante" (1940). They also made a flock of musicals together—"Babes in Arms," "Babes on Broadway," "Strike Up the Band," "Girl Crazy" and their last screen pairing, a number in "Ziegfeld Follies" (1945).

"I love this girl," said Mickey earnestly. "I've always loved her. Not with a romantic love, but with a love that is more than like. We clung to each other like two in a family, because neither of us had family. We were all-ways working."

Garland and Rooney went their separate ways, through triumphs and travails—and eight marriages.

Good Show Starts With Brasselle

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—"The Keele Brasselle Show," bowing in Tuesday night as Garry Moore's summer replacement on CBS, is a pleasant, tuneful and well-intentioned hour of variety.

The opening show—a last-minute substitute for the program originally announced — boasted a number of guest stars in unlikely combinations. There was Zsa Zsa Gabor, playing the comedy femme fatale role she has developed so adroitly, Fred ("Car 54") Gwynne, making his sad faces, and marvelous Barbra Streisand, who can suffer or clown in song with equal facility.

Brasselle is a good looking fellow who can sing a little and dance a little, but is a little awkward in the comedy department. He has surrounded himself with a program "family" including comedienne Ann B. Davis, Rocky Graziano (who just had to be a better prizefighter than he is a comic) and a shapely blonde dancer named Noelle Adam, who didn't dance much but strolled around the stage a lot in tights.

The musical and dancing portions of the show were pretty good, almost winter-television quality. But the show obviously was in need of some decent comedy material, or theme or something to tie it together.

A half hour earlier, CBS dropped "Picture This" into Jack Benny's usual time period. This is still another game show, obviously inspired in its physical set-up by "Password." The gimmick however, involves having the contestant picked from the audience draw a picture from a description by his celebrity teammate and try to guess what he's drawing.

The game came off unsatisfactorily, an understatement. Host Jerry Van Dyke and celebrity guests Orson Bean and Gretchen Wyler tried hard and futilely to generate some interest and excitement. It was a crushing bore.

Recommended tonight: "The Image Man," NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—Macdonald Carey and Melvyn Douglas in a suspense tale; "Reckoning," CBS, 10-11 — beginning a series of re-runs from other seasons, starting with "Tahiti," with Franchot Tone and Kim Hunter.

Youth 14, Scores

New Short Cut Vaccine for Polio

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has approved a new short-cut oral polio vaccine designed to give quick simultaneous immunity against all three types of polio.

A license for the three-in-one vaccine—combining strains of the Sabin oral polio vaccine — was granted to Lederle Laboratories, a spokesman for the U.S. surgeon general's office said Tuesday months later — plus a booster shot after a year. The company said the three-in-one vaccine is the combination of the work of groups under the direction of Sabin and Dr. Herald R. Cox, Lederle's director of viral research. Lederle, a division of American Cyanamid Co., has its headquarters in Pearl River, N.Y.

The first mass tests of the vaccine were conducted in 1960 in the Miami area, where it was administered—usually in a cherry-flavored syrup—to 414,000 persons. Health officials there said paralytic polio cases dropped to zero afterward.

Another test was conducted in the Tampa, Fla., area last year. The Salk vaccine, using dead virus and injected with a needle, is recommended given in three doses — the first and second a month apart, the third seven months later — plus a booster shot after a year.

The company said the three-in-one vaccine is the combination of the work of groups under the direction of Sabin and Dr. Herald R. Cox, Lederle's director of viral research. Lederle, a division of American Cyanamid Co., has its headquarters in Pearl River, N.Y.

Another test was conducted in the Tampa, Fla., area last year.

To Build Huge Radio Telescope

GREEN BANK, W.Va. (AP)—A spokesman for the National Radio Astronomy Observatory says construction will begin this week on an 85-foot radio telescope to listen in on outer space.

Dr. Frank Drake, chief of the observatory's telescope division, said the movable scope will be paired with an 85-foot telescope already in use.

The instrument, expected to cost about $500,000, is to be completed early next year, he said.

Associated Universities, Inc., a nonprofit organization of eight colleges, operates the observatory, which monitors radio emissions from the galaxies.

Swedes Angry Over Soviet Spy Plot

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Angry reaction to what officials called the worst spy scandal in Swedish history may force Soviet Premier Khrushchev to cancel his visit to this traditionally neutral nation a second time.

The government disclosed Tuesday the arrest of a Swedish air force colonel charged with spying for the Soviet Union for the past 15 years. For five of those years he was Swedish air attaché in Washington. It also ordered the expulsion of his two alleged contacts, the first secretary of the Soviet Embassy and the Soviet military attaché.

Col. Stig Erik Wennerstrom, decorated by both the United States and France, was arrested Friday. Police said he admitted selling military secrets of Sweden and other countries to the Kremlin.

Although the other countries were not identified, they presumably included the United States, which honored Wennerstrom with its Legion of Merit.

A special communique suggested more disclosures would be forthcoming. They could further embarrass Khrushchev and force him to cancel his Scandinavian visit, scheduled for next spring. Two years ago stormy political opposition made Khrushchev postpone a trip to Sweden.

The Swedish press today unanimously called for cancellation of the Khrushchev visit.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization was reported investigating whether Wennerstrom supplied the Russians with NATO secrets.

Informed sources in Stockholm said NATO staffs in Paris and Washington had cancelled all leaves to expedite the inquiry.

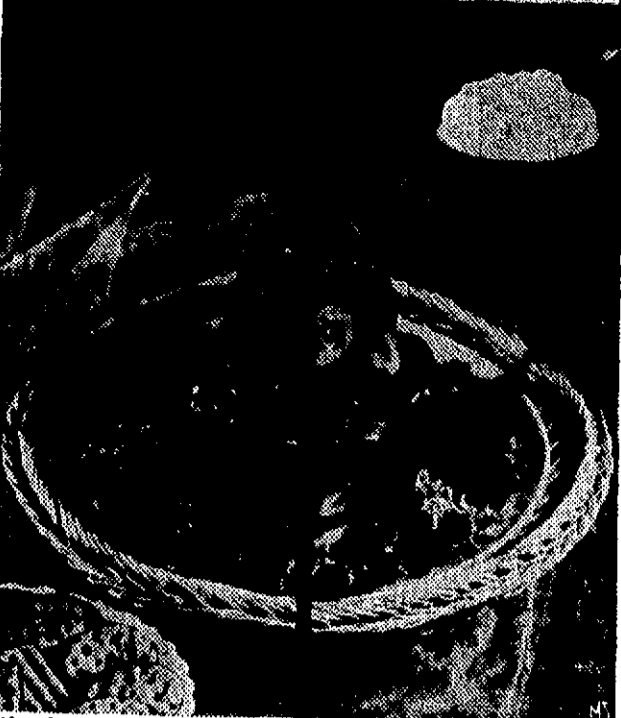

In Washington, the State Department said it received advance notice from the Swedish government of Wennerstrom's arrest. Officials refused to comment on the colonel's 1952-57 Washington assignment.

Wennerstrom, now 57, also served twice at the Swedish Embassy in Moscow. He was acting as a special disarmament adviser in addition to his Swedish Defense Ministry duties when police picked him up.

The newspaper Dagens Nyheter, quoting informed sources, called Wennerstrom one of the best paid Russian spies uncovered so far.

In protesting violations of both Swedish and international law to the Soviet Embassy, Swedish Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson ordered the expulsion of Maj. Gen. Vitaly Nikolov and George Baranovsky as Wennerstrom's contacts.

THE SALAD A CLOUD

It's the season to splurge on salads. Plentiful summer fruits become sparkling jewels combined in this spectacular molded salad. It's as good as it is handsome to look at and easy to make too. A fast, busy hostess, it can be made a day or two ahead, molded on crisp greens right at serving time.

Here are a few tips to guarantee success with the salad:

To assure ease in unmolding, it's a good idea to oil the mold lightly with salad oil. In this towering shape is not impressive, any 2 quart container can be used — a ring mold, loaf pan, or round mixing bowl.

To speed up the preparation, set the bowl containing the gelatin and fruit juice mixture water and stir occasionally until the syrupy consistency is reached.

To unmold the salad, run a narrow knife around the edge of the mold, loosening it and then invert the mold on a plate. The deluxe dressing combination of marshmallow cream, sour cream, lemon juice and a dash of nutmeg.

A quivering salad calls for cracker as a partner. GUSTO CRACKERS by Nabisco provide needed contrast in texture and robust flavor.

Shimmering Fruit Salad With Fluffy Dressing

3 (3-ounce) packages lemon flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 1/2 cups cold water
1/4 cup lemon juice

1 teaspoon salt
1 pint strawberries, sliced
1 cup sliced green seedless grapes
1 cup sliced bananas
Greens

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water, lemon juice and salt. Chill until syrupy, pour into chilled gelatin. Turn mixture into a lightly oiled mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens. With Fluffy Cream Dressing, GUSTO CRACKERS and CUT WAFERS. Makes 8-10 servings.

Fluffy Dressing

1/2 cup marshmallow cream
1/2 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine all ingredients; mix until smooth. Chill. Makes about 1 cup.

Land Agency to Release Four

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Land Commissioner Sam Jones said today he would release three of the commission's four field men before Monday in line with the legislature's slash of the commission's budget.

Jones has known the cut must come since the legislature approved only $38,970 for the department. Jones had asked $50,100.

The new appropriations don't take effect until July 1 and Jones has been postponing the layoffs as long as possible.

One field representative, C. R. Crump of Jonesboro, has been notified that he is being let out, Jones said. Jones said he must decide whether to keep H. B. Marshall of Paragould, Druid Jones of Morrilton or Avon Phillips of Lonoke.

Four of the five office workers in the department will be retained, Jones said.

Some legislators contend that the Land Department is no longer needed in state government.

Reduction of Bail Fails for Thompson

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Attorneys for lawyer T. Eugene Thompson, 36, failed in a bid today to win reduction of the $100,000 bail on which he is held after being indicted for the murder of his heavily insured wife.

A grand jury returned an indictment against the attorney late Tuesday night after 10 witnesses testified.

Final witness before the panel was Detective Lt. George Barkley whose collection of evidence brought indictments of three other men.

Indicted on murder charges are Norman Mastrian, 39, alleged go-between in the payoff in what police call "a murder for profit"; and W. C. Anderson, 35, who police said has admitted the actual killing. Sheldon Morris, 39, was indicted as an accessory.

Thompson's wife, Carol, 34, was fatally pistol-whipped and slashed in their St. Paul home March 6.

During the investigation, Thompson issued a statement that he carried $1,061,000 in accident and term insurance on his wife's life. Mrs. Thompson was the mother of four children 6 to 14 years old.

All four defendants are being held in lieu of $100,000 bail.

Thompson was arrested early last Friday after he had been implicated by Anderson, who gave police a 20-page statement in which he admitted killing Mrs. Thompson and said he was offered $3,000.

Morris, who earlier led police to where the pistol had been discarded, was among the grand jury witnesses.

comes at a critical time—when the astronauts must make decisions and push buttons to eject themselves in case the missile should blow up on the pad.

In Atlas-boosted Mercury capsules, malfunction detection is automatic. In the Titan-Gemini system, however, plans call for the final decision to rest with the pilots.

Brig. Gen. John L. McCoy, Titan boss in the ballistic systems division here, acknowledges the vibration problem, but says he is confident it will be whipped.

"The Gemini calendar calls for manned launchings in late 1964 or 1965," General McCoy said in an interview. "The Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration have common objectives in man-rating the Titan 2. I am confident we will have the Titan 2 ready in time to meet NASA's schedule."

McCoy also disclosed for the first time that Titan 2, although capable of carrying a bigger weapon farther than Titan 1, costs much less.

In a wide-ranging interview based on Titan 2's recent achievement of operational status, McCoy placed the cost of the 54 Titan 1's now operational at $200 million for each of six squadrons.

A crow billed as a combination playmate, pest, oddity, thief and welcome visitor to several homes is the center of attraction of a Pine Bluff residential area these days.

B. J. Wilson found three baby crows in a nest in Louisiana three months ago and kept one. He named it Henry.

Henry is now a sleek bird with a lot of sleek ways. He likes to play "tag" with the Wilson children. His version of the game is to grab a small object in his beak and fly just out of reach of the children. When they climb to him, he moves the object further away. Just as the children are where they can reach him, Henry drops the object, swoops to the ground and scoops it up again.

Wilson says at times, though, Henry is "a regular pest." "I don't dare lay a nail, a nut or a screw in the open or he'll have it up on the house . . . before I can get to him."

Henry sometimes takes his meals with a yellow cat at a neighborhood home. The cat will stand back from his bowl and let Henry eat, then Henry stands back while the cat eats.

Henry has the run of the neighborhood, but so far has returned home each night to roost in a large oak tree in the Wilson yard.

Super Titan No. 2 Is All Ready

By Ralph Dighton

NORTON AIR FORCE BASE — The silo-launched Titan 2 is ready for action, but not for its prime job. Human payloads, however, are the job: lofting the two-man Gemini capsule into space.

The Air Force and the civilian take, but there is general agreement that the one-half "G" research to reduce bone-stress would at least impair the vibrations set up during effectiveness of the two men in the first-stage engine. They are close to solving the problem.

These longitudinal vibrations are enough to bounce an astronaut up and down so hard he could have difficulty operating his controls for several critical seconds during launch. They do not interfere with Titan 2's effectiveness as a missile.

Its nuclear payload is designed to withstand much worse jolting than the nearby explosion of an anti-missile rocket would not put Titan 2's ready for action.

The "G" stands for gravity. An extra half gravity load means the astronauts would be bouncing up and down just as if they were driving on an extremely bumpy road at high speed.

The worst of it, the bouncing

Wisdom Comes Out in Folk Sayings

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The robust wisdom of a people is expressed in folk sayings—in proverbs and mottoes.

"Know thyself," counseled the ancient Greeks, and thereby said it all.

Since then we have become a great deal more verbose.

Through most of human history, folk wisdom has been expressed in direct sayings and forthright advice.

Thus said Benjamin Franklin, an American wellspring of this form of knowledge:

"Penny wise, pound foolish." "If a man could have half his wishes, he would double his troubles."

"He that teaches himself hath a fool for a master." "Love your neighbor, but don't pull down your hedge."

"If you would know the value of money, try to borrow some." Many a living room then bloomed with samplers that said, "God Bless Our Happy Home." Simpler times were exemplified by simpler sayings.

Now we live in a complex and confusing time, and our folk wisdom is expressed in complex sayings with a reverse twist. Our mottoes have become as schizophrenic as our thoughts, and reflect the double talk that has become our normal language.

We communicate by speaking backwards.

Go into any office or factory in the land and you'll see on wall and desk the clouded counsel of our day. I have at hand a small book of these sad witticisms entitled "Signs of Our Times."

Here are a few examples of what the book calls "the choicest, most hilarious contemporary signs ever created":

"If you don't understand it, oppose it!"

"In case of nuclear attack, run like hell!"

"It's better to give than to receive, so what have you brought me?"

"If I weren't so busy, I'd take time off to join in the confusion."

That seems to be the key word to our attitude today—confusion.

Such mixed-up counsels of despair we give each other, and seek thereby a consolation more wry than ribald.

If a people can be judged by their mottoes, then we dwell in

Sentiment Means Much to Actors

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Show biz folk, who dearly love sentiment, got a feast of it this week. The occasion: reunion of Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney onstage after 18 years.

The event took place at Television City, where Garland was taping the first of 32 variety shows she will do for CBS next season. The network's luminaries turned out gleefully for the show—Lucille Ball, Dick Van Dyke, Jack Benny, plus movie types like Natalie Wood, Van Heflin, etc.

Sentiment aside, it was a revelation to watch the pair working together again, you're not supposed to know what the show contains, since it won't air until Sept. 29. But I can report that Garland and Rooney show why they have been stars for 30-odd years (he is 42, she 41) yet don't rely on old-timey gimmicks.

Afterward, the Mick allowed himself an affectionate glance at their mutual past:

"I remember the day I met this girl," he reflected. "Frances Gumm—How could I forget a name like that?"

"We were both going to a professional school in Hollywood and we were about 6. I went home that day and told my mom, 'I meet a girl today named Frances Gumm; she was kinda sticky.' The joke didn't go over so well then, either."

Their first movie together was "Love Finds Andy Hardy" (1938) and they followed with "Andy Hardy Meets a Debutante" (1940). They also made a flock of musicals together—"Babes in Arms," "Babes on Broadway," "Strike Up the Band," "Girl Crazy" and their last screen pairing, a number in "Ziegfeld Follies" (1945).

"I love this girl," said Mickey earnestly. "I've always loved her. Not with a romantic love, but with a love that is more than like. We clung to each other like two in a family, because neither of us had family. We were always working."

Garland and Rooney went their separate ways, through triumphs and travails—and eight marriages.

Good Show Starts With Brasselie

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—"The Keele Brasselie Show," bowing in Tuesday night as Garry Moore's summer replacement on CBS, is a pleasant, tuneful and well-intentioned hour of variety.

The opening show—a last-minute substitute for the program originally announced—boasted a number of guest stars in unlikely combinations. There was Zsa Zsa Gabor, playing the comedy femme fatale role she has developed so adroitly, Fred ("Car 54") Gwynne, making his sad faces, and marvelous Barbara Streisand, who can suffer or clown in song with equal facility.

Brasselie is a good looking fellow who can sing a little and dance a little, but is a little awkward in the comedy department. He has surrounded himself with a program "family" including comedienne Ann B. Davis, Rocky Graziano (who just had to be a better prizefighter than he is a comic) and a shapely blonde dancer named Noelle Adam, who didn't dance much but strolled around the stage a lot in tights.

The musical and dancing portions of the show were pretty good, almost winter-television quality. But the show obviously was in need of some decent comedy material, or theme or something to tie it together.

A half hour earlier, CBS dropped "Picture This" into Jack Benny's usual time period. This is still another game show, obviously inspired in its physical setup by "Password." The gimmick however, involves having the contestant picked from the audience draw a picture from a description by his celebrity teammate and try to guess what he's drawing.

The game came off unsatisfactorily, an understatement. Host Jerry Van Dyke and celebrity guests Orson Bean and Gretchen Wyler tried hard and futilely to generate some interest and excitement. It was a crushing bore.

Recommended tonight: "The Image Man," NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—Macdonald Carey and Melvyn Douglas in a suspense tale; "Reckoning," CBS, 10-11—beginning a series of re-runs from other seasons, starting with "Tahiti," with Franchot Tone and Kim Hunter.

New Short Cut Vaccine for Polio

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has approved a new short-cut oral polio vaccine designed to give quick simultaneous immunity against all three types of polio.

A license for the three-in-one vaccine—combining strains of the Sabin oral polio vaccine—was granted to Lederle Laboratories, a spokesman for the U.S. surgeon general's office said Tuesday night.

In a statement, Lederle said that, in addition to reducing the complexity of administering oral polio vaccine, the new product gives "active immunity against all three types of polio after the first feeding, and more complete protection after the second feeding eight weeks later."

The pioneer oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of the University of Cincinnati requires three doses a month apart, each using a different strain of live viruses to combat each type of polio.

The Salk vaccine, using dead virus and injected with a needle, is recommended given in three doses—the first and second a month apart, the third seven months later—plus a booster shot after a year.

The company said the three-in-one vaccine is the combination of the work of groups under the direction of Sabin and Dr. Herald R. Cox, Lederle's director of viral research. Lederle, a division of American Cyanamid Co., has its headquarters in Pearl River, N.Y. The first mass tests of the vaccine were conducted in 1960 in the Miami area, where it was administered—usually in a cherry-flavored syrup—to 414,000 persons. Health officials there said paralytic polio cases dropped to zero afterward.

Another test was conducted in the Tampa, Fla., area last year.

To Build Huge Radio Telescope

GREEN BANK, W.Va. (AP)—A spokesman for the National Radio Astronomy Observatory says construction will begin this week on an 85-foot radio telescope to listen in on outer space.

Dr. Frank Drake, chief of the observatory's telescope division, said the movable scope will be paired with an 85-foot telescope already in use.

The instrument, expected to cost about $300,000, is to be completed early next year, he said.

Associated Universities, Inc., a nonprofit organization of eight colleges, operates the observatory, which monitors radio emissions from the galaxies.

Swedes Angry Over Soviet Spy Plot

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Angry reaction to what officials called the worst spy scandal in Swedish history may force Soviet Premier Khrushchev to cancel his visit to this traditionally neutral nation a second time.

The government disclosed Tuesday the arrest of a Swedish air force colonel charged with spying for the Soviet Union for the past 15 years. For five of those years he was Swedish air attaché in Washington. It also ordered the expulsion of his two alleged contacts, the first secretary of the Soviet Embassy and the Soviet military attaché.

Col. Stig Erik Wennerstrom, decorated by both the United States and France, was arrested Friday. Police said he admitted selling military secrets of Sweden and other countries to the Kremlin.

Although the other countries were not identified, they presumably included the United States, which honored Wennerstrom with its Legion of Merit.

A special communique suggested more disclosures would be forthcoming. They could further embarrass Khrushchev and force him to cancel his Scandinavian visit, scheduled for next spring. Two years ago stormy political opposition made Khrushchev postpone a trip to Sweden.

The Swedish press today unanimously called for cancellation of the Khrushchev visit.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization was reported investigating whether Wennerstrom supplied the Russians with NATO secrets.

Informed sources in Stockholm said NATO staffs in Paris and Washington had cancelled all leaves to expedite the inquiry.

In Washington, the State Department said it received advance notice from the Swedish government of Wennerstrom's arrest. Officials refused to comment on the colonel's 1952-57 Washington assignment.

Wennerstrom, now 57, also served twice at the Swedish Embassy in Moscow. He was acting as a special disarmament adviser in addition to his Swedish Defense Ministry duties when police picked him up.

The newspaper Dagens Nyheter, quoting informed sources, called Wennerstrom one of the best paid Russian spies uncovered so far.

In protesting violations of both Swedish and international law to the Soviet Embassy, Swedish Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson ordered the expulsion of Maj. Gen. Vitaly Nikol'sky and George Baranovsky as Wennerstrom's contacts.

THE SALAD ON A CLOUD

It's the season to splurge on salads. Pivotal summer fruits become sparkling jewels when combined in this spectacular molded salad. It's as good to eat as it is handsome to look at and easy to make too. A favorite of the busy hostess, it can be made a day or two ahead and unmolded on crisp greens right at serving time.

Here are a few tips to guarantee success with the salad:

To assure ease in unmolding the salad it's a good idea to oil the mold lightly with salad oil. Although this towering shape is most impressive, any 2 quart container can be used — a ring mold, loaf pan, or round mixing bowl.

To speed up the preparation time, set the bowl containing the gelatin and fruit juice mixture in ice water and stir occasionally until the syrupy consistency is reached.

To unmold the salad, run the tip of a narrow knife around the edge of the mold, loosening the salad and then invert the mold on a plate. The deluxe dressing is a combination of marshmallow creme, sour cream, lemon juice, and a dash of nutmeg.

A quivering salad calls for a crisp cracker as a partner. GUSTO CRACKERS by Nabisco provide the needed contrast in texture and robust flavor.

Shimmering Fruit Salad — With Fluffy Dressing
3 (3-ounce) packages lemon-flavored gelatin
3 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 pint strawberries, sliced
1 cup sliced green seedless or seeded grapes
1 cup sliced bananas
Greens

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water, lemon juice and salt. Chill until syrupy. Stir fruits into chilled gelatin. Turn mixture into a lightly oiled 2-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens. Serve with Fluffy Cream Dressing. GUSTO CRACKERS and TRISQUIT WAFERS. Makes 8-10 servings.

Fluffy Cream Dressing
½ cup marshmallow creme
½ cup sour cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine all ingredients; beat until smooth. Chill. Makes about 1 cup.

Children Visiting Mrs. Rockefeller

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller's four children by her first marriage are visiting her on the Rockefeller estate at Tarrytown, N.Y.

Gov. Rockefeller made the disclosure at a news conference Tuesday. He said he had nothing to add to his report earlier this month that discussions on custody of the children were going very well.

Mrs. Rockefeller and her first husband, Dr. James S. Murphy, are working out the arrangements.

Bans All Race Discrimination

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Bert Combs issued an executive order today banning racial discrimination in all business licensed by the state.

Widely affected under the sweeping directive are restaurants and lunch counters, which must have Board of Health licenses, and taverns and bars, which must have beer and liquor licenses from the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Kentucky is believed to be the first Southern state in which a governor has proclaimed abolition of discrimination in public accommodations through executive order.

comes at a critical time—when the astronauts must make decisions and push buttons to eject themselves in case the missile should blow up on the pad.

In Atlas-boosted Mercury capsules, malfunction detection is automatic. In the Titan-Gemini system, however, plans call for the final decision to rest with the pilots.

Brig. Gen. John L. McCoy, Titan boss in the ballistic systems division here, acknowledges the vibration problem, but says he is confident it will be whipped.

"The Gemini calendar calls for manned launchings in late 1964 or 1965," General McCoy said in an interview. "The Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration have common objectives in man-rating the Titan 2. I am confident we will have the Titan 2 ready in time to meet NASA's schedule."

McCoy also disclosed for the first time that Titan 2, although capable of carrying a bigger weapon farther than Titan 1, costs much less.

In a wide-ranging interview based on Titan 2's recent achievement of operational status, McCoy placed the cost of the 54 Titan 1's now operational at $200 million for each of six squadrons.

Land Agency to Release Four

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Land Commissioner Sam Jones said today he would release three of the commission's four field men before Monday in line with the legislature's slash of the commission's budget.

Jones has known the cut must come since the legislature approved only $38,970 for the department. Jones had asked $90,100.

The new appropriations don't take effect until July 1 and Jones has been postponing the layoffs as long as possible.

One field representative, C. R. Crump of Jonesboro, has been notified that he is being let out, Jones said. Jones said he must decide whether to keep H. B. Marshall of Paragould, Dr. J. Jones of Morrilton or Avon Phillips of Lonoke.

Four of the five office workers in the department will be retained, Jones said.

Some legislators contend that the Land Department is no longer needed in state government.

Reduction of Bail Fails for Thompson

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Attorneys for lawyer T. Eugene Thompson, 36, failed in a bid today to win reduction of the $100,000 bail on which he is held after being indicted for the murder of his heavily insured wife.

A grand jury returned an indictment against the attorney late Tuesday night after 10 witnesses testified.

Final witness before the panel was Detective Lt. George Barkley whose collection of evidence brought indictments of three other men.

Indicted on murder charges are Norman Mastrian, 39, alleged go-between in the payoff in what police call "a murder for profit"; and W. C. Anderson, 35, who police said has admitted the actual killing. Sheldon Morris, 39, was indicted as an accessory.

Thompson's wife, Carol, 34, was fatally pistol-whipped and slashed in their St. Paul home March 6.

During the investigation, Thompson issued a statement that he carried $1,061,000 in accident and term insurance on his wife's life.

Mrs. Thompson was the mother of four children 6 to 14 years old.

All four defendants are being held in lieu of $100,000 bail.

Thompson was arrested early last Friday after he had been implicated by Anderson, who gave police a 20-page statement in which he admitted killing Mrs. Thompson and said he was offered $3,000.

Morris, who earlier led police to where the pistol had been discarded, was among the grand jury witnesses.

said they returned home at night this weekend and found their house a shambles.

Missing were chicken food, dog food and ten pounds of potatoes.

The Westons, investigating the cause of the mess, walked into the bathroom of the house.

There were two large hogs taking a snooze after their big meal.

The Westons said they didn't know how the hogs got into the house, but the animals were quickly chased back to their quarters on a packing house pasture next door to the home.

W. E. Bruner of Hope observed his 95th birthday last Friday—and had 95 callers to help him celebrate. He marked the event while in a hospital.

A crow billed as a combination playmate, pest, oddity, thief and welcome visitor to several homes is the center of attraction of a Pine Bluff residential area these days.

B. J. Wilson found three baby crows in a nest in Louisiana three months ago and kept one. He named it Henry.

Henry is now a sleek bird with a lot of sleek ways. He likes to play "tag" with the Wilson children. His version of the game is to grab a small object in his beak and fly just out of reach of the children. When they climb to him, he moves the object further away.

Just as the children are where they can reach him, Henry drops the object, swoops to the ground and scoops it up again.

Wilson says at times, though, Henry is "a regular pest." "I don't dare lay a nail, a nut or a screw in the open or he'll have it up on the house . . . before I can get to him."

Henry sometimes takes his meals with a yellow cat at a neighborhood home. The cat will stand back from his bowl and let Henry eat, then Henry stands back while the cat eats.

Henry has the run of the neighborhood, but so far has returned home each night to roost in a large oak tree in the Wilson yard.
